Instructions

MBS Custodian Recertification (Form 2002)

The servicer (or transferee servicer) of an MBS pool uses this form to obtain a new document custodian's recertification of the pool documents that are being moved (unless our document delivery facility is the new custodian).

Copies

Original and two copies.

Printing Instructions

This form must be printed on letter size paper, using portrait format.

Instructions

When custody documents are moved from one custodian to another for any reason, the lender (or the transferee servicer) will send the new document custodian a trial balance for each MBS pool (showing all mortgages still in the pool as of the date of the transfer), along with the MBS Custodian Recertification (Form 2002) for execution. The lender (or transferee servicer) does not have to send this form to us if our document delivery facility will be the new custodian.

The new document custodian must review the transferred documents and recertify that all the required documents are present and conform to our documentation requirements. After completing its review of the documentation--and resolving any discrepancies or problems with the lender or the transferee servicer--the document custodian should execute this form. The document custodian should retain a copy of the executed form and the trial balance for its records related to the pool and return the original and one copy of the executed form (and the related trial balance) to the lender (or to the transferee servicer if the documents were moved in connection with a transfer of servicing).

The lender (or the transferee servicer) should send a copy of the executed Form 2002 (with the trial balance attached) to its Lender Administration representative in its lead Fannie Mae regional office, retaining the original executed Form 2002 in its corporate records.

Documents that are transferred to a new document custodian must be recertified within six months after the effective date of the transfer of the documents or the transfer of servicing.
