

Payment Deferral, COVID-19 Payment Deferral, and Disaster Payment Deferral

Use this resource to learn more about and use the payment deferral, COVID-19 payment deferral and disaster payment deferral options.

1 Communicate with the homeowner

Provide information to your homeowners about payment options. Ask questions to understand their situation. If the homeowner's hardship is related to COVID-19, a COVID-19 payment deferral may be an option. If the hardship is related to a disaster, a disaster deferral may be an option. If neither of those situations apply, Fannie Mae also has the payment deferral option.

2 Evaluate homeowner and communication decision with homeowner

Use applicable Fannie Mae servicing solutions system, like Servicing Management Default Underwriter™ (SMDU™) or HomeSaver Solutions Network (HSSN), to evaluate homeowner and/or request Fannie Mae review. When eligible, confirm homeowner accepts the workout.

3 Report monthly contractual payments via Loan Activity Report (LAR)

Report all required monthly contractual payments prior to the Workout Effective Date at least one day prior to reporting a payment deferral, COVID-19 payment deferral, or disaster payment deferral.

4 Report workout to Fannie Mae

Complete the payment deferral, COVID-19 payment deferral or disaster payment deferral option, as applicable, by reporting the case via Fannie Mae's servicing solutionssystem.

New to SMDU? Start with the SMDU UI Registration Job Aid. Visit the SMDU Learning Center page for SMDU tools and resources.

If you're using HSSN, visit the HSSN Job Aids for resources.

5 Continue required loan reporting

Follow reporting guidelines as stated in the Fannie Mae Servicing Guide.
