

Homeowner Assistance Fund

Program Overview and Resources

Established through the American Rescue Plan Act (March 2021), the Homeowner Assistance Fund (HAF) program provides national relief for vulnerable homeowners impacted by COVID-19. $9.9 billion has been allocated to program administrators who are responsible for the design, implementation, and execution of their own unique HAF programs.

Fannie Mae Guidance for Servicers

- Fannie Mae is not a HAF program administrator.
- Servicers are encouraged to monitor NCSHA and U.S. Treasury websites for HAF program statuses and details.
- Servicers should reference Fannie Mae Announcement SVC-2021-04 — Servicing Guide Update published on July 14, 2021, that removes prescriptive policy language specific to the Hardest Hit Fund (HHF) program and details servicer responsibilities with regard to handling funds provided on behalf of a borrower from a state or local government mortgage assistance fund program, including HAF.
- Among the responsibilities defined in the Guide, Section D2-3.1-05 says that servicers “must accept such funds on behalf of a borrower (i.e., treat as borrower-paid funds), provided that application of such funds does not impair Fannie Mae’s interests in the mortgage loan.”

Per U.S. Treasury’s website, program administrators include the 50 U.S. States, the District of Columbia, U.S. Territories, Tribes or Tribal entities, and the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands.

Program administrators will use HAF funds “to prevent mortgage delinquencies and defaults, foreclosures, loss of utilities or home energy services, and displacement of homeowners experiencing financial hardship after January 21, 2020.”
