Helping Borrowers Overcome Down Payment and Closing Cost Barriers

Low down payment mortgages are a great solution for helping borrowers achieve homeownership, but for some borrowers, finding even a 3% down payment can be a challenge. Fortunately, in many cases, Fannie Mae allows funds for part or all of a down payment and closing costs to come from a variety of sources, helping more borrowers achieve the dream of homeownership.

Fannie Mae allows three primary sources of closing cost and down payment assistance:

- Gifts from any individual who’s related to the borrower by blood, marriage, domestic partnership, adoption, or legal guardianship. That includes relatives of the borrower or a domestic partner, former relatives, godparents, spouses, individuals engaged to marry the borrower, children, or other dependents.

- Grants from employers, municipalities, nonprofit organizations (excluding credit unions), states, counties, state and local HFAs, regional Federal Home Loan Banks, federally recognized Native American tribes and their sovereign instrumentalities, or public agencies. Lenders may also offer down payment assistance grants under certain conditions.

- Community Seconds® mortgages can come from many of the same sources as grants, but a second lien must be placed on the property. Although Fannie Mae does not purchase Community Seconds, it does purchase first mortgages associated with Community Seconds.
Community Seconds highlights

- Loans may have more than one Community Seconds mortgage (e.g., a third lien) up to the maximum 105% CLTV.
- Can be used with both standard and affordable products, such as HomeReady®.
- May be forgivable, repayable, or have a deferred payment structure.
- If the Community Seconds has a deferred repayment structure of five years or more:
  - Risk assessment is based on LTV, rather than the CLTV, if underwritten in Desktop Underwriter® (DU®).
  - The monthly payment for the Community Seconds is not included in the borrower’s debt-to-income ratio.
  - Loan-Level Pricing Adjustments (LLPAs) that normally apply to subordinate financing are waived.

Please note: Only principal residences are eligible for Community Seconds subordinate mortgages. At loan delivery, Special Feature Code (SFC) 118 must be provided, and the amount of the Community Seconds mortgage(s) must be included in the CLTV.

See the Community Seconds Checklist and B5-5.1-02 (Community Seconds Loan Eligibility) to confirm that a subordinate mortgage meets Fannie Mae’s requirements for Community Seconds.
