

Construction-to-Permanent Financing: Single-Closing Transactions

Single-closing transactions may be used to combine the interim construction loan financing and the permanent financing if the borrower wants to close on both the construction loan and the permanent financing at the same time.

These types of loans are eligible for delivery to Fannie Mae when construction is completed and the loan converts to a permanent phase – subject to certain Selling Guide requirements that are summarized in this matrix.

Construction Phase	When a single-closing transaction is used, the lender will be responsible for managing the disbursement of the loan proceeds to the builder, contractor, or other authorized suppliers. Because the loan documents specify the terms of the permanent financing, the construction loan will automatically convert to a permanent long-term mortgage upon completion of the construction. Loans that combine construction and permanent financing into a single transaction are eligible for delivery to Fannie Mae only after the construction is completed. The construction loan period for single-closing construction-to-permanent transactions may have no single period of more than 12 months and the total period may not exceed 18 months.
