

Desktop Underwriter® (DU®) Validation Service

Integration and Testing

Updated March 2026

Overview of DU Validation Service

Fannie Mae's DU validation service is designed to give lenders enhanced loan origination controls, a more efficient mortgage origination process, and certainty around the borrower's income, asset, and employment information.

By leveraging automation, analytics, and third-party data sources, Fannie Mae is able to provide Day 1 Certainty® with representations and warranties relief for validated components.

When a lender opts in to use the DU validation service, and the lender obtains a verification report from a report supplier or authorized report distributor, DU will use the data on the verification report to validate information entered by the lender into DU and return results in specific DU messages.

To take advantage of this service, Fannie Mae offers the following guidance:

- Review the following documents and training:
  - DU Validation Service Webpage
  - DU Validation Service FAQs
  - DU Validation Service Learning Center
- Engage with vendors and execute their business contracts.
- Determine integration and testing effort for Loan Origination System (LOS).
- Complete your internal process assessments.
- Develop job aids and documentation for users.
- Complete vendor activation process.

High-level workflow of the DU validation service process

- After obtaining borrower consent, the lender orders a verification report from a DU validation service vendor. View the current vendor list.
- The lender reviews the verification report and addresses any discrepancies with the borrower.
- Lender enters information into DU and submits.
- DU obtains a duplicate copy of the verification report from the vendor using a reference number or the loan number.
- DU performs its own income and asset calculations to arrive at a value that is compared to DU. Employment status can also be validated.
- DU returns specific messages related to the loan components that have been submitted for validation.
  - Income is validated on a per-borrower and per-income type basis.
  - Assets are validated on a loan-level basis.
  - Employment is validated on a per-borrower and per-employer basis.
- Lender can take advantage of streamlined processing and underwriting for components that have been validated.
- The lender closes the loan and delivers to Fannie Mae.
- As long as lender meets all DU validation service requirements described in the Selling Guide and complies with applicable DU messages, lender receives Day 1 Certainty for validated components.

NOTE: For The Work Number from Equifax and the Equifax Tax Transcript Service, lenders may use the identifier in the Tracking Number Field on the Equifax verification order as the report reference number and submit Placeholder as the DU Supplier Type in the MISMO AUS v3.4 file. Alternatively, the lender loan number can be used as the third-party verification report reference number. Since the lender loan number is already captured in DU, as long as lenders are registered with Fannie Mae to use The Work Number from Equifax and the Equifax Tax Transcript Service, DU will automatically try to obtain the verification report using the lender loan number.

Prior to activation, lenders should ensure their integrated system(s) are prepared to support the DU validation service. Points to consider:

- Determine a method to order and receive vendor report(s) – either directly from the vendor using their tools or facilitated through the LOS.
- The third-party verification report reference number (or loan number) must be input into DU for DU to receive the report information and issue DU validation messages.
- DU issues new messages for validation. Lenders may desire to incorporate the new messages into workflow.

Validation Service Integration

Summary

- Customers with proprietary platforms:
  - Support new field values for service provider name and reference number and/or reissue key.
  - Pass the new field values to DU.
  - Ordering the service within the Loan Origination System (LOS) provides additional process efficiencies.
  - Use of DU validation service does not change the Loan Delivery (LD) process. A Special Feature Code (SFC) is not needed for LD.
- A technology build is not needed to implement use of Equifax - The Work Number. Lenders may register with Fannie Mae to use Equifax - The Work Number and if the lender loan number is provided to Equifax - The Work Number when the order is placed, DU will automatically pull in the verification reports. However, if the Lender Loan Number is not available or lenders want to use a different value to tag Equifax reports, platforms must support Placeholder as a service provider name and the Equifax Tracking Number Field in the reference number field.

Data Mapping

Below is detailed mapping information to support the DU validation service.

MISMO AUS v3.4

For the MISMO 3.4 format, the DU:UNDERWRITING_VERIFICATION container will contain three elements to support the service provider name, reference number, and report type. DU will support multiple instances of the DU:UNDERWRITING_VERIFICATION container so multiple provider reports can be included as part of a single underwriting request. An ArcRole must be used to associate the corresponding verification with the borrower. Please see the DU Specification MISMO V.3.4 for more information on ArcRoles.

Helpful Tips

- For all vendors (except The Work Number / Equifax), once a lender provides the reference number in their loan application file and DU retrieves the report from the vendor:
  - DU will not make any subsequent calls to the vendor when the loan is resubmitted to DU.
  - If a lender needs a corrected report, the vendor should assign a new reference number that the lender subsequently updates in their DU loan file.
  - This will allow the DU validation service to retrieve the revised report from the vendor.
- The DU:VerificationReportIdentifier field is case sensitive (e.g., “Formfree”, not “FormFree”)
- Be aware of field length as some of the vendor IDs are quite long. GUIDs are 36 characters in length.
- For The Work Number / Equifax reports, DU will attempt to pull a new report with every submission if Reference ID is provided or if the lender is registered for the automated lender loan number process.
- For The Work Number / Equifax reports, one report identifier should be assigned at the loan-level for multi-borrower loans. The Work Number / Equifax does not support having different report identifiers for different borrowers on the same loan.

Desktop Underwriter Web User Interface

Lenders who do not have direct system integration can manually enter the third-party verification report Reference ID in DU. DU has an Income & Asset Validation section in the Additional Data section of the online loan application. In this section:

- Lenders will choose the Third-Party Data Provider Name and enter the corresponding reference number associated with the report obtained from the provider.
- Up to four reference numbers may be entered for each Third-Party Data Provider Name selected.
- This will give lenders the ability to enter the provider and reference number information for each borrower on the loan application. Customers must enter the reference number in the following format:

ULAD MISMO V3.4: Service Provider Reference Number field should only contain Reference ID

DU Validation Service Testing

Integrated technology solution providers and customers with proprietary loan origination systems may use the DU Integration Environment for testing. TSPs and proprietary customers should work with either the TSP Account Manager or the account teams to get their Institution IDs set up for testing.

Note: The Portfolio IDs above will work for lender DU submissions, but the lender will not be able to view the reports since they weren't created by the lender. For full end-to-end testing, Finicity recommends using the MVS test profiles on Finicity's developer documents page to generate your own test reports and use the portfolio IDs created for the reports.

The Work Number from Equifax

The following test cases are available in The Work Number's test environment. A lender can "order" The Work Number reports for these borrowers, then submit to DU's integration environment using the lender loan number they used when The Work Number report was ordered.

NOTE: There is a delay between when a lender receives The Work Number report and when the report is available in DU.

Employment

Below are the employers associated with each of The Work Number test cases.

- Only active employers for the test borrowers are listed, lenders may see others in the reports.
- The Work Number allows the user to select all employment (active and inactive) or only active employment for a borrower.
- The user may select a verification of income (VOI) or verification of employment (VOE) report from The Work Number. DU will validate employment using either report.
- DU will validate only employers entered into DU for the borrower. If a borrower has two active employers on The Work Number report, but only one of those is entered into DU, DU will validate only the employer entered and use only income associated with that employer to validate the borrower's base, bonus, overtime, or commission.
