

Revised UCD Critical Edits Transition Timeline

May 31, 2022

Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac (the GSEs) are announcing changes to the Uniform Closing Dataset (UCD) critical edits transition based on continued industry feedback that considers competing priorities, strategic implementation planning, and available resources for both lenders and technology solution providers (TSPs). The transition is designed to enhance data quality and consistency for single-family loans purchased by the GSEs. The GSEs are revising the timeline for the remaining phases.

NOTE: As a reminder, the data provided in the UCD XML file must match the data on the PDF of the Closing Disclosure presented to the borrower. The UCD Phase 3 of the Critical Edits transition focuses on enhancing data quality in the Closing Cost details section (for example, fee types and fee amounts). Refer to the UCD FAQs for more information.

Revised Timeline

The GSEs recognize that several necessary updates to Qualified Mortgage (QM) data points in Q1 2022 required industry attention that would otherwise have been focused on preparing for Phase 3. Therefore, we are moving the implementation date for the Phase 3 mandate for UCD Critical Edits to May 1, 2023, and the Phase 4 transition to November 6, 2023.

Transition Preparation

The GSEs encourage lenders and TSPs to complete transition activities ahead of schedule to ensure your organization's readiness in advance of each phase. The GSEs have targeted the following schedule for the deployment of warning edits in our respective UCD production collection systems which will provide a longer timeframe for testing prior to the release.

Phase	Target Dates for Warning Edits in Production	Critical Edits Transition to Fatal/Critical Date
Phase 3	On or before November 7, 2022	May 1, 2023

Each GSE will notify its customers when the Phase 3 warning and critical edits are available in their UCD collection systems and customer test environments.

Refer to the following resources on the Fannie Mae UCD page or Freddie Mac UCD page for the critical edits for each updated phase:
